O Lord our God, we need Your wisdom and Your guidance this day as the Senate begins its Session this afternoon. We pray that You will bless these individuals who have been elected by the people back in their districts. O Lord God, we know that You know these individuals. You know their needs and their motives, their hopes and their fears. Lord, we pray that You put Your arms around them to give them strength and that You speak to them to give them wisdom greater than their own, that they may hear Your voice and seek Your guidance. May they remember that You are concerned about what happens and what is said in this Chamber.

Bless each one of us according to our deepest need and use us for Your glory's sake. We offer this prayer now in Jesus' name. Amen.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

SHIPPENSBURG LITTLE LEAGUE 1990 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS PRESENTED TO SENATE

Senator PUNT. Mr. President, we are fortunate today to have with us a group of young men that has not only displayed the talents of courage, of athletic abilities or of friendship of Pennsylvania, but they have displayed it throughout our nation and our world. We have seated with us today the 1990 National Champions of the Little League. For many of you who may have watched the game and the series in Williamsport, you saw these young men win the national championship, but they lost the world series. Their loss was our win, because never was there a more class act displayed in defeat than was displayed by these young men from Shippensburg. This team went on to win the District 14 Title, the Section 3 Title, the Pennsylvania State Championship, the Eastern Regional and the World Series U.S.A. National Title.

I would like to recognize each team member, if they would stand as I read their names: Keith Culbertson, Gregg Mellott, Matt Reath, Chuck Halter, Bobby Knox, Andrew Ernakovich, Randy Clendening, Scott Thrush, Justin Martin, Donnie Miller, David Orndorff, Mike Ocker, Jimmy Smith and Bobby Shannon; and also the manager of the team, Glen Orndorff, Jr.; the coach, Gregg Mellott; the scorer, Jerry Diehl; and the major boys player agent, Cyril Cassner.

This morning the Governor hosted our national championship team at a reception and then they were introduced and given congratulations by the House of Representatives. These young men have displayed a sense of value and pride that all of our nation's youth can take great pride in and hope to exemplify. I would ask the Senate to join with me in extending a cordial welcome to the 1990 National Champion Team of Shippensburg, the Shippensburg Major Boys Little League All-Stars.

The PRESIDENT. Once again, would the team from Shippensburg please rise so we can recognize you and congratulate you on your outstanding performance. Ladies and gentlemen, the National Championship All-Star Boys Little League Team.

(Applause.)

The PRESIDENT. We thank all of you and we thank Senator Punt for bringing you to us today.

AS "MENSA WEEK"

Senator BAKER offered the following resolution (Senate Resolution No. 186), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules and Executive Nominations:

In the Senate, September 25, 1990.

A RESOLUTION

Urging the Governor to proclaim the week of September 24 through 30, 1990, as "Mensa Week."

WHEREAS, The week of September 24 through 30, 1990, is the beginning of a full year's observance in honor of the 30th anniversary of American Mensa; and

WHEREAS, Mensa, the internationally acclaimed roundtable organization composed of persons at or above the 98th percentile on standardized intelligence tests is generally acknowledged to exert a profound influence in the promotion and enhancement of the gift of intelligence on behalf of mankind and its members; and

WHEREAS, Mensa is engaged in charitable activities through its Gifted Children Program, its Scholarship Fund, and literacy programs conducted by local groups, and Mensa is engaged nationally, through the Mensa Education and Research Foundation, in granting scholarships to students throughout the United States; and

WHEREAS, American Mensa consists of 55,000 members from across the United States, and Mensa in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has approximately 2,500 members; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate urge the Honorable Robert P. Casey, Governor of this Commonwealth, to proclaim the week of September 24 through 30, 1990, as "Mensa Week"; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor.

DECLARING SEPTEMBER 24 THROUGH 28,
1990, AS "COMMUNITY BANKING WEEK"

Senators HOLL, JUBELIRER, SHAFFER, TILGHMAN, WILT, ARMSTRONG, PUNT, CORMAN, BELAN, PECORA, RHOADES, BELL, SHUMAKER, GREENLEAF, HELFRICK, HESS, LaVALLE, LYNCH, FISHER, LEWIS, WENGER, STOUT, O'PAKE, SCANLON, STAPLETON, MELLOW, DAWIDA, BAKER, STEWART, ROCKS, HOPPER, LEMMOND, REIBMAN, GREENWOOD, FUMO, MADIGAN, SALVATORE and BRIGHTBILL offered the following resolution (Senate Resolution No. 187), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules and Executive Nominations:

In the Senate, September 25, 1990.

A RESOLUTION

Declaring September 24 through 28, 1990, as "Community Banking Week."

WHEREAS, For over 100 years independent community banks in this Commonwealth have worked to provide for their local communities the local support necessary to grow and prosper. Local community banks have always put Pennsylvania first; and

WHEREAS, There are more than 200 locally-owned and operated independent banks with more than 750 banking offices found in small towns, rural areas, suburbs and cities throughout this Commonwealth. Collectively, they boast more than $21 billion in assets and have more than 73,000 shareholders and 2.73 million account holders. Community banks are working citizens of their communities in every sense of the word. More than 12,500 full-time and 2,500 part-time employees work for Pennsylvania's community banks; and

WHEREAS, Community banks also work for their communities as an economic focal point where funds are "recycled." Community banks know that when money stays in town, it becomes a renewable resource, creating an economic cycle that constantly recirculates and revitalizes the community. On average, approximately 95 - 100% of the typical community bank's loan portfolio is reinvested in the community, usually within 50 miles of a bank office, and almost entirely within Pennsylvania's borders. The average community bank in Pennsylvania has over 30% of its holdings in commercial loans with local businesses and more than 50% in mortgage loans to local homeowners; and

WHEREAS, Community banks understand that bigger is not always better. Community banks focus on the prosperity of individuals and small businesses in their hometowns, not investments made at a far away headquarters where people do not share the same vested interest in a local community's economic health. In fact, Pennsylvania's community banks invest more than $6.6 billion in residential and mortgage loans; more than $4.5 billion in commercial loans; more than $352 million in agricultural loans; and more than $191.5 million in student loans; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate hereby declare September 24 through 28, 1990, as "Community Banking Week" and laud community banks across this Commonwealth for making Pennsylvania first in their financial commitments, their dedication as working neighbors, and above all, for serving as fiscally sound and reliable sources of economic lifeblood in communities all across this great Commonwealth.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 178, CALLED UP

Senator LOEPER, without objection, called up from page 5 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution No. 178, entitled:

A Resolution directing the joint State Government Commission to study ways in which the Commonwealth can better provide government services at minimal public cost by utilizing, where appropriate, private enterprise.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 178, DEFEATED

Senator LOEPER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Resolution No. 178.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Senator BELL. Mr. President, I oppose this resolution. This resolution asks for a study to be formed to bring out the benefits of privatization with respect to some of our governmental activities. I sat through a hearing on privatization on SEPTA, and I know what it meant. It meant that the work would be given to other people—private owners without union contracts—privatization to maintain the roads, state hospitals, community hospitals, prisons. We went down that road before, and we had some very gory details given to a committee on which I sat as to what would happen in a privately run prison, especially as to the quality of food. Trash removal, airports. Philadelphia wants to privatize their airport right now. As for community colleges, I know we would save a lot of money if we privatized the state university system. I have Cheyney in my district and West Chester adjacent to it. I am sure they could be run cheaper as far as the state is concerned if they were privatized.

Senator BAKER. Mr. President, I am fully cognizant of the arguments of my colleague. I would just make the point that the resolution simply calls for a study, and it may well be that his arguments would be borne out by the study. That is the purpose of having the study, so it can be a basis of recommendations for consideration of not only the services he mentioned, but of many other services, many of which might well be the subject of a beneficial privatization.

Senator AFFLERBACH. Mr. President, I join with my friend, the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Bell, to oppose this resolution. All of the Members of this Chamber will well recall that some years back the federal government decided to convene a similar commission which later became known as the Grace Commission. After many months of study and the expenditure of literally millions of dollars during that study, the Grace Commission released a voluminous report with well over a thousand recommendations by which the federal government could conceivably save money through privatization. The fact is that after ten years very, very few of those recommendations have been implemented whatsoever. In short, millions of dollars were wasted doing a study which is collecting dust on the shelves. I do not think we need a state level Grace Commission so we can waste additional funds at this level to put a study on the shelves, and I would oppose the resolution.

Senator BAKER. I would like to differ, Mr. President, slightly with my colleague who compares this study with the Grace Commission. The Grace Commission was done by an independent commission. This is using a staff organization which currently exists. It would certainly not be comparable in any way with the cost. Moreover, the Grace Commission was not to study just privatization. It was also to study, in addition to privatization, many other methods of saving money within the federal government which went far beyond privatization. I guess my main point would be that it certainly does not hurt if there is a possibility that, with the problem of budgeting that we have of government at all levels these days, if there is a way that we can save the taxpayers money and come up with a more efficient way of providing services, it certainly ought to be investigated. No one really has anything to fear from an investigation and a study that might save a lot of money in the long run.

Senator MELLOW. Mr. President, I would just like to make two points here. First of all, I totally agree with the comments by both the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Bell, and the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Afflerbach, except there is one additional thing I would like to add. I believe there could be some question with the state parks, and we do know what type of opposition there has been to the privatization of state parks. I think, furthermore, Mr. President, if a study like this is needed, and perhaps it is, then I think the Committee on State Government here in the Senate, which is a duly formed standing committee in the Pennsylvania State Senate that is funded through our legislative management money that has a staff, and it is chaired by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Jim Rhoades, I am sure would be very capable of making this particular type of study. I do not see where it has to be done by the Joint State Government Commission and then to be reported back to the Senate and to the House of Representatives. If there is a need for the study, we have the mechanism which we can put in place immediately. We have a standing committee with staff that has been funded that can report back in a short period of time to the Members of the Senate. Mr. President, I just think the amount of money that would be spent and the possibility of the consequences that may develop by having the Joint State Government Commission do it would not be appropriate, and at this time I would ask for a negative vote on the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Senator LOEPER and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Armstrong	Greenwood	Loeper	Shaffer
Baker	Helfrick	Madigan	Shumaker
Brightbill	Hess	Peterson	Tilghman
Corman	Hopper	Punt	Wenger
Fisher	Jubelirer	Rhoades	Wilt
Greenleaf	Lemmond	Rocks

NAYS—26

Afflerbach	Fumo	Mellow	Reibman
Andrezeski	Holl	Musto	Scanlon
Belan	Jones	O'Pake	Stapleton
Bell	LaValle	Pecora	Stewart
Bodack	Lewis	Porterfield	Stout
Dawida	Lincoln	Regoli	Williams
Fattah	Lynch

Less than a majority of the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative and the resolution was defeated.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE

Senator LOEPER. Mr. President, I move the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Resolution No. 178, just failed of final passage.

GUESTS OF SENATOR CHARLES D. LEMMOND PRESENTED TO SENATE

Senator LEMMOND. Mr. President, one of the men whom we just confirmed is the student member of the Pennsylvania State University Board of Trustees. He is E. J. Shaffer, Jr. He is with us this afternoon and is one of the first, if not the first, to assume that position directly from one of the satellite campuses. Last year, in June, E. J. graduated from Penn State Wilkes-Barre and is now at the main campus. When he was with us at Wilkes-Barre he was the president of the student government, had a tremendous grade average and is a resident of Heart of the Endless Mountains in Tunkhannock.

Mr. President, I am delighted to present to you a young man who is committed to Penn State, will do us all proud and make us all further Penn State proud than we might now be. I am delighted to present to you and the other Members of the Senate Mr. E. J. Shaffer, Jr.

The PRESIDENT. Would Mr. Shaffer please rise. I have the pleasure of serving with Mr. Shaffer on the Board of Trustees and I can concur fully in everything that Senator Lemmond has said. We welcome you to the Senate of Pennsylvania and congratulate you.

(Applause.)

REMARKS ON NOMINEE

Senator BAKER. Mr. President, I would like to note that among our confirmations today is Mr. Clifford E. DeBaptiste of Chester County. He has served faithfully on the State Board of Funeral Directors for nine years and was reappointed today. Throughout that entire time he has served as the chairman of that board as well. He runs the DeBaptiste Funeral Homes in West Chester with his family. I would just like to point out in gratitude that when Cliff undertakes an assignment, he does it with dedication.

In the nine years of service, Cliff DeBaptiste has never missed one meeting, seminar or funeral director examination during that entire period. He has dutifully traveled throughout the state and devoted himself completely to this important and prestigious position. His record of 100 percent attendance is met by few members of statewide boards and commissions. He is a true professional.

In the weeks before Cliff was renominated, I received letters of recommendation, as did the Governor, from funeral directors throughout the state—Republicans and Democrats—and no one had anything less than full praise and respect for Clifford DeBaptiste. In fact, all of the major funeral director associations have wholeheartedly supported his renomination. He is a credit to his family, his profession, his community and our state, and I am happy to thank you today for supporting Clifford DeBaptiste.

Mr. President, before proceeding with the rest of the business of the day, I would ask that we have a very brief recess of the Senate for the purpose of a meeting of the Committee on Rules and Executive Nominations to take place in the Rules Committee room at the rear of the Senate Chamber.

DEVELOPING PROGRAMS TO PROTECT THEIR MUNICIPAL WASTE DISPOSAL CAPACITY AND
THE PUBLIC'S HEALTH AND SAFETY FROM THE IMPORTATION OF MUNICIPAL WASTE
GENERATED IN OTHER STATES

Senators MELLOW, MUSTO, FISHER and LEMMOND offered the following resolution (Senate Resolution No. 188), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, September 25, 1990.

A RESOLUTION

Memorializing Congress to pass legislation which gives individual states greater flexibility in developing programs to protect their municipal waste disposal capacity and the public's health and safety from the importation of municipal waste generated in other states.

WHEREAS, The capacity of disposal facilities located within this Commonwealth is significantly reduced by the importation of municipal waste generated in other states; and

WHEREAS, The reduction in capacity attributed to the importation of municipal waste from other states has the potential to limit available capacity to, and raise disposal costs for, municipal waste generated within this Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, The Commonwealth must bear the costs associated with assuring the safe transportation and disposal of significant volumes of municipal waste generated by other states but disposed in facilities located within this Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, The Commonwealth has undertaken a comprehensive planning and recycling program designed to provide adequate disposal capacity for municipal waste generated within this Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, Increased importation of municipal waste generated in other states threatens to complicate the Commonwealth's long-term waste planning process, congest Commonwealth highways and endanger our citizenry by its transportation; and

WHEREAS, The Commonwealth's available landfill capacity is an important factor in its ability to encourage and sustain economic development; and

WHEREAS, Federal legislation is pending which would enhance the ability of individual states that have taken action to plan for their own disposal capacity to more effectively regulate municipal waste shipments from other states; and

WHEREAS, Under the pending legislation, these states would be able to limit the importation of municipal waste generated in other states and impose differential fees on municipal waste generated in other states; and

WHEREAS, The fees charged could differentiate between municipal waste imported and municipal waste generated by that state and also between municipal waste generated by different states; and

WHEREAS, The National Governors' Association recently recommended Congressional action to permit states to establish differential fees on waste imports to encourage states to develop their own capacity; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania support Congressional action that will allow the Commonwealth to more efficiently and effectively regulate the treatment and disposal within this Commonwealth of municipal waste generated in another state; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this authority should include the ability to impose limits and collect differential fees on municipal waste generated in another state and treated or disposed within this Commonwealth; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of Congress and to each member of Congress from Pennsylvania.

Ordered, To be printed on the Calendar for second consideration.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Senator PETERSON. Mr. President, I guess I was amazed or puzzled or surprised a few moments ago when we defeated a resolution sponsored by the gentleman from Chester, Senator Baker, that directed a study. I guess I was also surprised that everybody on the Democrat side of the aisle opposed it. They talked of the cost of millions of dollars, comparing it to the cost of the Grace Commission. Well, as I read the resolution, or if they did read the resolution, I do not know how they came to that conclusion. So let us just review it a little bit. It says "WHEREAS, In a democratic, free enterprise system, the government"—that is us—"should work to insure that quality standards are met at the least possible cost to taxpayers...." Now I think that is something we all espouse, that we work to make government as efficient and effective, and provide the best service at the least price on an ongoing basis. Then it says: "RESOLVED, That the Joint State Government Commission appoint a task force to conduct a thorough study of ways in which the Commonwealth can provide government services at minimal public cost...." Now that is the function of this study and this is what I guess was going to cost millions of dollars, and I do not see how that could be. The state Local Government Commission has funding, I am told, adequate to do this study and many more. The task force that will be appointed will be Legislators from the different Bodies and the different sides of the aisle who will join hands and who will work with the staff of the state Local Government Commission to review certain things which I will later review. How is that going to cost millions of dollars?

Then it goes on and says, "...the task force may appoint an advisory committee....," which would be business types, professional types, that could advise, and, of course, their travel expenses and their per diems, but I am assured that there is plenty of funding in their present appropriation to take care of that. That is what they do in many studies. Let us review what they were asked to review. It says, "review and identify governmental functions which could better be performed by private enterprise...." I think governments do that every day. I think our present departments—General Services, PennDOT—make decisions every day whether they are going to have a consultant design a bridge or whether they have enough people in house to do that. I would hope we would evaluate in a lot of ongoing situations whether we should have the professionals in house when maybe it is a seasonal function that would be much more cost effective to hire consultants as needed and not in an ongoing bureaucratic way.

"Review existing privatization efforts on the Federal, State and local levels...." What does that say? It says, look around. See what other states have done. See what other transportation authorities have done. See what other mass transit systems have done. I think a lot of us recently attended something here that was put on by the Federal Transportation Commission downstairs at a breakfast one morning and talked about the problems that many states were facing with the tremendous costs of mass transit. We are not immune to that. That is a problem we face every budget year. I know this year when we appropriated a bond issue for $57 million just to repair buses through our present system, it said something to me that maybe it is a system we really need to take a look at, and it does not seem to me that that is a threat. It is something that would be a support for state government, that maybe there is a cheaper way to provide mass transportation. Maybe there is not. Maybe it will not work, but across this country I am told these things are happening and maybe we ought to look and see what the cost effects are. It says, "establish standards of evaluation of existing governmental services by applying cost-benefit analysis and taking into account quality, safety and other performance standards...." I do not know what is so threatening about that.

It says, "review current bidding and procurement regulations to determine their efficiency...." What is threatening about that? I know in hearings of the Committee on Appropriations the last couple of years we were told that our system—it was a complaint brought to us by the SSHE system—that when they have the cash in the bank, our system of procuring a new roof, not a new building, takes five years, and if they wanted bond money, it takes six years. Now when you have the money in the bank and it takes five years to put a roof on a building, I think we have a system that needs to be looked at, and here is the chance to have a look at it, and we voted it down.

“Review the possibility of integrating public and private services....” I think we should always take a look at when private enterprise and the public service can give us the best service to the people at the least possible price, and it says, “in particular, examine service areas, including, but not limited to, the following: transportation, including operation, construction, design of highways and transportation-related projects....” I happen to know that PennDOT does a lot of their design by private enterprise and most of their construction is done by private enterprise. What is threatening about them?

“Municipal services....” I served in local government for eight years, and we always evaluated whether we should buy another piece of equipment, and whether we had use of that piece of equipment enough to pay for it and have someone with the ability to maintain it, or were we better off hiring a local contractor eight times a year to provide that service and not own that expensive piece of equipment.

“Hazardous waste and environmental services...human services...hospital operation; housing and redevelopment programs; education and training services; and administrative services, including data processing....” Those are decisions that are made all the time. Do you have the data processing equipment in house, then hire the people who know how to use it? Or is it cheaper to contract and rent a service? Those are things that we should be doing ongoingly in state government, and I hope within the system we are.

Then it says, be “RESOLVED, that the Joint State Government Commission report the findings of its task force, together with recommendations for appropriate legislation, to the General Assembly as soon as possible.” No time line. No deadlines to meet. It just says as soon as possible. That could be this year, next year in the legislative process or maybe five years down the road. We know sometimes the wheels of government turn very slowly. But as I read this, I just am amazed and I guess I am befuddled at why anyone would vote against it. Because what does this resolution say? Let us take a formalized look. Let us form a committee—you want to say—or a task force of Legislators using the Joint State Government Commission as our staff—a very inexpensive way. They are already funded, the money is already there, and I am told they are not totally booked up for the year. There is room for further projects—and take a look at how we are doing business. Is there any place in this whole system where maybe we could give better service for less money by using a private business instead of hiring state employees? That is just what it is all about. What is wrong with that? I think that kind of evaluation should go on daily and I hope it does go on in each and every department. Why we voted down this resolution to take a little formalized look at the legislative Body here for this reason is beyond my understanding, and I hope will be looked at sincerely again in the near future because it is the kind of thing we ought to be about all the time.

Senator MELLOW. Mr. President, as a public official much more famous than I will ever be said many, many times over and over during a campaign, here we go again. I guess here we go again. We are now in happy hour, a few legislative days prior to an election, and I guess we can expect to hear this from the Republicans as we convene Session every day and then conclude it in the evening. Unfortunately, the gentleman stated before that we did not read the resolution, and I can assure him that we did, but I question his ability to count because there were several Members of his own caucus including the first Member of his own caucus who led the charge to defeat the proposal. So even if all 23 Members on this side of the aisle thought it was not in the best interest of government to go ahead and to pass the proposal, and I think we felt on this side that it was not in the best interest based on the fact that a standing committee could do the same work, certainly the 27 Members who represent the same party as the previous speaker, had they shared his feelings, obviously Senate Resolution No. 178 would have been passed instead of defeated. So I really have to question, Mr. President, exactly where the gentleman is coming from with the exception that it is right before the election, and I know they are trying to the best of their ability to get any kind of an advantage possible, and perhaps this is just another step in that particular way that they are seeking advantage. But, Mr. President, the Committee on State Government, under the direction of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Jim Rhoades—unless the gentleman does not have confidence in Senator Rhoades’ ability to be able to do a study—is very capable and could do the exact same work and it would be done right here with Senate employees and with Members of this Senate in house who could do the work, and there is really not much more we can say on the issue.

Senator BAKER. Mr. President, it is possible that I may, on occasion, be justifiably accused of taking a partisan approach to a topic that comes before this Body. I am certainly a loyal Republican and supportive of the Republican candidates. However, I would have to suggest that the distinguished leader is off the mark in relating a long-term study which would report, I am sure, long after the election, to the hurly-burly of a political campaign. This has to do with the future of our Commonwealth. If I may be permitted a few brief remarks to put it in context, since it has been made an issue, Pennsylvania, in our preliminary census count, has lost population and will be losing political representation in Washington, reflecting that loss. I do not expect that there is going to be a widespread movement on the part of our state government to downsize in relationship to that loss of population. Maybe in the final count we will not lose it, but the fact is we will have a relatively stable population, rising costs and a budget we know is under pressure. Without even going into any partisan comments about the budget, it is safe to say that it will continue to be a pressure for this state and for every local subdivision within it. Taxpayers are virtually in revolt in this state and in many other states, and many local school boards have felt the sting of public response to tax increases which they have had to levy this year. For that reason, it seems to me we in government ought to be accepting the responsibility for taking every means at our disposal to bring less costly, more efficient service.

I would have to just reiterate my previous comments to say that if anybody disagrees with the concept of privatization, then the way for that to be displayed is in a study of it. For those who purport to be in favor of rational consideration of government services to oppose a study, I do find questionable. However, I did have an explanation that possibly labor is opposed to this particular study and this, in the total scheme of things, minor resolution, but I feel that I will comment on that observation by saying I suppose, when the term "labor" is used, it means the organized labor movement, not necessarily representing all those who are laboring people. They are taxpayers, too. It is in their interest to have an efficient government and a cost-effective government. I have observed, and I think everyone has observed, that many problems of government and corporations in this country, when they become run for the benefit of those who are just in favor of doing things the way they have always been done, versus those who are seeking new, more efficient ways to do it, have, in some cases, led to the decline and to the loss of efficiency and loss of support and, in some cases, the inability to perform the functions for which they were originally intended. So it seems to me that we ought to be able to take a fresh look at government functions, many of which, by the way, are currently performed, as my distinguished colleague, the gentleman from Venango, Senator Peterson, has pointed out. I offer simply one piece of evidence. The mental health and mental retardation system has effectively used privatization in many of its services. In fact, if you compare the costs of the Department of Public Welfare run institutions versus those in the private sector with which the Department of Public Welfare contracts, you can find there is a considerable savings and a considerable difference in the cost of those services and not necessarily a distinction in the quality of service since DPW supervises these private contracts themselves. I think that is a model that could, perhaps, be applied to other parts of state or local government within Pennsylvania. I can say with no fear of contradiction that privatization is a movement whose time is coming. It is already here and in some respects it has already passed in terms of the importance of the idea and the concept as a way of saving money. I am sure we will be turning to it, and I would hope that the time will come when the Senate will agree to conduct this kind of a study, because if we do not, then we will surely be passed by by many other states where they are willing to make the kind of effort that this resolution calls for.

I have one final point. The gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator Mellow, discussed the existence of the standing committee, and I really have no great institutional preference for one means over another. However, I do not see why the leader of the Minority in this Body should criticize or imply that an existing commission established as a body of the Legislature cannot adequately perform a study function which falls within its purview, whether it be the Local Government Commission or the Joint State Government Commission. They have a specific allocation of funds to do tasks exactly like the one this resolution calls for and, in fact, that is why they exist. As far as I am concerned, I hope through some means, through some mechanism, I will not find Senator Mellow opposing the idea of taking a hard look at ways in which we can save our taxpayers money.

Senator PETERSON. Mr. President, to be very brief, just a couple of responses to the Senator from Lackawanna, our esteemed Minority Leader, who said, here we go again. I just wanted to inform him that I did not plan to speak on this issue today. I guess I was just shocked when this issue came against opposition so strongly organized, and then I, for the first time, read the resolution and the more I read it the more amazed I was in his argument that it should be a standing committee. I think he has probably been a committee chairman. I have been Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare for a number of years and I know that is a committee that gets a lot of work. I would not have time to do this study. My staff would not have time to do this study. The Joint State Government Commission, a statutorily created committee by the House and Senate, this is exactly what they are there for. This is the kind of duty they were created for. This was the purpose. The standing committees in the House and the Senate have to deal with all of the communications across this Commonwealth from interest groups, have to deal with all the communications from Legislators in both Bodies, have to deal with the administration on regulatory review, and on and on it goes, and all the legislation that is drafted by Members and that Members want considered and to be reviewed and analyzed. I find my staff constantly overworked. To do this kind of a study in the Committee on State Government, I think, would be asking far more than their staff could possibly do. The Joint State Government Commission, if I understand correctly, is exactly why we created it. It is an inexpensive in-house way to take a broader look at issues and gather information. Now does this resolution change anything? No. What does it do? It comes back to the General Assembly with some facts and figures, and if the facts are that you do not want to change anything from the way we are doing it, you do not. We may get facts where there is just a little bit of savings and we decide we are not going to change it. But we may also get facts where the taxpayers of Pennsylvania could save hundreds of millions of dollars and, if that is the case, we ought to be looking at it.
