SESSION OF 2013 197TH OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 37

SENATE

MONDAY, June 10, 2013

The Senate met at 1 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Jim Cawley) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend MICHAEL GREEN, Pastor of East Shore Church of Christ, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

I would like to thank all of our State and local leaders for offering me the invitation today to partake in a tradition that has been going on since the inception of this country and our Republic. I would like to thank also that this has been made possible by my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, with whom all things are possible. I also bring you greetings from the East Shore Church of Christ, where we are located just off of Progress Avenue and Ionoff Road.

Let us pray.

O Heavenly Father, it has been said, blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, and so, God, we pray, O Heavenly Father, that we come before You today as in times past, following in the tradition of our fathers. We come before You as in times past, unashamed and unafraid to concede that You are God, that You are our creator and we are the creation. And that we submit to Your greatness, O God, and we submit to Your wisdom and Your authority. We come before You with the understanding that although we the people are subject to the governing authorities, we would all do well to remember that there is no authority except from You. And so as our fathers have in times past, we look to You on all matters of family, of life, and of governance. We pray to You for strength, O God, for wisdom, for mercy, for patience, and for courage.

We pray for our leaders and that they remember the trust that has been given to them. We pray that they remember their calling and their constituency and that they take seriously the responsibility and calling that has been placed before them. Let them remain strong enough to do right, O Lord, but humble enough to keep from wrong. May Your blessings serve as a reminder, O God, that our rights, our very freedoms stem from You because we still believe that we are endowed by our creator with certain inalienable rights. May we be responsible and not careless with this freedom that You have provided us, O God. That we may continue to remain a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. May we not take for granted this great gift that You have given us. And may we always be mindful that in all things, we are blessed through the sacrifice of Your son. And it is in His blessed name that I offer up this prayer today. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thanks Pastor Green, who is the guest today of Senator Teplitz.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by those assembled.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR ROBERT F. TEPLITZ
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Senator Teplitz.

Senator TEPLITZ. Mr. President, I have two guests here today. First, we heard earlier today from Pastor Michael Green, from East Shore Church of Christ. The church is located in Susquehanna Township in my district. It has been there for 2 years. If Pastor Green sounded familiar, it is because his brother is our very own Rob Green. So I ask my colleagues to help me express thanks for his very moving and compelling words this morning by thanking him and welcoming him to our Chamber.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guest of Senator Teplitz please rise so that the Senate may give you its usual warm welcome.

(Applause.)

Senator TEPLITZ. Mr. President, my second guest came to me by way of Keah Tingler, who works in our Security Office. His name is Antonio Martins. He is an exchange student from Brazil, who spent the last year at Central Dauphin East High School, and is living with the Tingler family here in the Harrisburg area. He is here with his mother, Simone, who is up in the gallery. His father is not able to be here today because he actually works in Brazil for the president of the Senate of the State of Alagoas, as a journalist for one of the leaders of that Senate.

Antonio has been here for the last year and was enrolled in the 11th grade, where he played soccer and was on the varsity wrestling team and the varsity lacrosse team. They will be flying back to Brazil tomorrow. So I ask my colleagues to please join me in welcoming Antonio and Simone Martins, and wishing Antonio much success in his future endeavors.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Teplitz please rise so that the Senate may give you its usual warm welcome.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR JUDY SCHWANK
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Berks, Senator Schwank.

Senator SCHWANK. Mr. President, I always enjoy when we bring students in to visit the Senate, to take a tour, and to follow us when we have student shadows because I think we get to see some of Pennsylvania's finest young people. Today, I have the pleasure of introducing one of those fine young people, Sarah Manderbach. Sarah is serving as a student shadow with me today and is joined by her parents, Sonya and William Manderbach. Sarah is in the 7th grade at Muhlenberg Middle School, where she is involved in a variety of activities that expand from the arts to athletics. She plays tenor saxophone in the school band, sings with the chorus and select ensemble, and is involved in school musicals. She also plays softball, basketball, and still finds time to volunteer with the United Way and, one of my favorites, the Girl Scouts. After high school, Sarah has aspirations to attend Harvard or Yale to study law. She has the ambition and the intelligence, so I am sure she will be successful in whatever she does, and I see a future spot for her in our State legislature.

Mr. President, help me in welcoming Sarah and her parents.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Schwank please rise so that the Senate may give you its usual warm welcome.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR MICHAEL L. WAUGH
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from York, Senator Waugh.

Senator WAUGH. Mr. President, I have a large contingent in the gallery today from York County. I am not going to be able to introduce each and every one, but there are several very special guests that I would like to tell you about. This is the team that recently won the York County Envirothon. As most of you know, each year conservation districts across the Commonwealth sponsor county-level Envirothons, which are hands-on, natural resource, environmental education programs, and they do it by way of competition. Teams of five high school students compete in field testing in the areas of soils and land use, aquatic ecology, forestry, wildlife, and environmental issues in general.

Joining us today in the gallery is a group of five homeschooled students who won the York County Envirothon. But get this, and this is where it is important to our Commonwealth, they also went on to win the State of Pennsylvania Envirothon. In August, these five young folks will be representing our Commonwealth at the North American Envirothon in Montana. This is a first for a homeschooled team from York County, and we congratulate them.

Here are the members of the team: Mike Renga, the team captain, an 18-year-old senior from Red Lion; Mariah Henry, who is their soil specialist, an 18-year-old senior from Seven Valleys; Collin Inners, the wildlife specialist of the team, a 17-year-old junior from York; Jessica Picone, who is the current issues specialist, with an emphasis on livestock grazing, a 17-year-old from Felton; and Morgan Staub, who is the team's scribe and forestry specialist, a 16-year-old sophomore from Dover. They are here today with their coaches, Jill Oles and Sheri Picone, and also some of the outstanding staff from the York County Conservation District, and some family and friends. I ask the Senate to first congratulate them on the State title championship and then wish them well this August in Montana.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Waugh please rise so that the Senate may give you its congratulations and usual warm welcome.

(Applause.)

SENATE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Senators BAKER, GREENLEAF, YAW, ERICKSON, WOZNIAK, TOMLINSON, FERLO, WASHINGTON, STACK, FONTANA, TARTAGLIONE, TEPLITZ, RAFFERTY, SMITH, EICHELBERGER, KASUNIC, BREWSTER, FARNESE, DINNIMAN, WAUGH, ALLOWAY, PILEGGI, WHITE, HUTCHINSON, SOLOBAY and VULAKOVICH, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 157, entitled:

A Resolution designating the week of June 9 through 15, 2013, as "State Veterans' Homes Week" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Luzerne, Senator Baker.

Senator BAKER. Mr. President, as we debate this year's budget, we should take a moment to salute the very Americans who have defended our right to speak freely, to assemble, and to live in a land of law and liberty. This week, "State Veterans' Homes Week" is a golden opportunity to honor and thank the residents and staff of Pennsylvania's six veterans homes. Even better than a resolution, I encourage all of you to visit one of the homes and remind America's heroes that they are not forgotten. Take time to listen to their tales of heroism and struggle, to hear why they served, where they served, and what they did for democracy.

Then beyond a visit, we must show our defenders that we remember them by supporting their needs in the budget process and beyond. As a board member of the Gino J. Merli Veterans Center in Scranton, I have the privilege of talking to these still-proud soldiers who defended our freedoms in their younger and stronger days. They never fail to impress or inspire with their stories and their infinite patriotism. The entire staff, from the doctors, nurses, to the aides and therapists, display the same patriotism and respect as they tend to the needs of these great American heroes. The State veterans homes are one of the most visible ways in which we honor our obligation to our nation's defenders. We have improved the physical plant of the homes and the quality of care, which has led to an extremely high patient satisfaction level, but that does not mean the homes are not without challenges. With the State budget process in its final stages, we must keep the veterans in these homes in the forefront of our minds and our priorities. They were often the first to defend our flag and should be the last to suffer in a budget shortfall.

Throughout the year, many volunteer groups visit the homes to socialize, sing, to donate blankets, and to make the veterans homes their true home. Veterans homes are caring for the aging veterans in Scranton, Erie, Hollidaysburg, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Spring City. The staff in each home works to maximize the independence of the very sick, aging, and injured veterans, and their spouses. So we salute the 1,600 veterans and their caregivers during State Veterans' Homes Week, and I encourage everyone to visit a veterans home and say thank you to our heroes. Remember them in the State budget, a reminder that we have not forgotten that we are forever in their debt.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Rafferty.

Senator RAFFERTY. Mr. President, I am proud to stand here today in support of the gentlewoman from Luzerne County's resolution honoring our veterans homes. I am a proud member of the Southeast Veterans Center Advisory Council. I am the Senate representative, and I have been since my second year in the Senate. It is a very moving experience for me to be there to work with the administration in the home to make sure that our heroes are taken care of on a daily basis. It is our opportunity to give back to them for all that they gave to us in this great country. So, I am proud to stand with Senator Baker. I commend her for this resolution, and I side with her on, as we progress with the budget negotiations, we must be mindful of those residents of the veterans centers and of the men and women who made it possible for us to gather here today.

Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators GORDNER, TARTAGLIONE, ERICKSON,

FERLO, STACK, YAW, FONTANA, TOMLINSON, RAFFERTY, SMITH, BAKER, KASUNIC, GREENLEAF, HUGHES, DINNIMAN, WAUGH, PILEGGI, WOZNIAK, WHITE, MENSCH, SCHWANK, YUDICHAK, SOLOBAY, COSTA, VULAKOVICH and FARNESE, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 158, entitled:

A Resolution honoring the 100th anniversary of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor & Industry.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Columbia, Senator Gordner.

Senator GORDNER. Mr. President, I, again, join with my co-chair, Senator Tartaglione, as we offer this 100th anniversary resolution. Earlier this month at the Department of Labor and Industry, Secretary Hearthway and many folks from the department gathered in order to recognize this historic event. The Department of Labor and Industry provides a lot of different resources and services to men and women across this great Commonwealth, whether it is workforce safety, unemployment compensation, or workers' compensation. Earlier, we dealt with a piece of legislation by Senator Corman dealing with boilers. The list goes on and on about how the men and women who serve in that department affect our lives on an everyday basis.

Again, oftentimes it is not until we have these type of anniversaries that we really say thank you and realize the importance of what they do. But as chair of the Committee on Labor and Industry since 2006, I have really grown to respect the men and women who are with the department, and the leadership that has been there. I thank Secretary Hearthway, who has provided a great amount of leadership and energy to that department. We wish the folks there congratulations on their 100th anniversary, and look forward to doing many other activities over the coming months and years in order to better serve the folks of this great Commonwealth.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Philadelphia, Senator Tartaglione.

Senator TARTAGLIONE. Mr. President, I am proud to be here to support this resolution with my co-chair, Senator John Gordner, marking the 100th anniversary of the Department of Labor and Industry. The department was created in 1913 with the intention of keeping useful statistics and enforcing new labor laws, improving safety, and fostering efficiency. No one can argue that it has not worked. In its first year, the department issued new regulations for movie theaters, requiring that the exit doors be unlocked and exit signs be visible. That year, the department also studied the effect of head lice in factory efficiency. Not surprisingly, it was found that head lice reduced efficiency, and employers who were previously unconcerned with head lice got interested quickly. The department also recommended that cigar rollers not put cigars in their mouths while rolling them, as it was considered unsanitary for the roller and the smoker.

The department conducted inspections of more than 15,000 businesses that first year; 4,000 were bakeries and 5,000 were garment businesses. So yes, times have changed. In the first 100 years, the department's rules, advice, and support have cut worker's injuries by two-thirds and cut their rate of on-the-job deaths by one-thirtieth of what it was back then. Over that time, the department has adapted to a quickly changing economy and it has taken on functions of job training, career counseling, job placement, and economic development. Technology is changing in the workforce more quickly than ever before. The Department of Labor and Industry is adapting to those changes by preparing workers for new careers, and finding ways for everyone, whatever challenges they face, to participate in a new community. I am hoping that the next 100 years will see the same progress for Pennsylvania workers that we have seen in the last 100 years.

Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.
