SESSION OF 2018 202ND OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

No. 23

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 22, 2018

The Senate met at 1 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (Senator Joseph B. Scarnati III) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend JOSEPH EVANKO, of St. Jude Parish, Mountain Top, offered the following prayer:

I thank all of you and Senator Baker for having me here today to pray with you.

Let us pray.

We assemble, Lord, as grateful citizens of a Commonwealth which we are proud to call home, but also as humble people of faith who simply yet sincerely confess as Americans in God we trust. We acclaim You as our Creator who made us in Your own image and likeness, thus rendering the human person sacred, endowing us with rights and responsibilities, with freedom not so much to do whatever we want, but what we ought. We profess You as our common father who unites us. A lawgiver who has implanted within us a grasp of the truth, a thirst for justice, and a belief that we are at our best when our will is at one with Your own. To these distinguished legislators, we ask the gift of wisdom only You can bestow, a reclaiming of the honor and nobility of public service, and the sensitivity to those in need. Please illuminate in a radiant way our Leaders in the Senate of Pennsylvania. You never summon us to a duty without supplying us the grace to do it. May this blessed assurance challenge and comfort us. May we all discuss, discern, and decide here, Lord, be filled with integrity now, when one day we stand before You, the ultimate lawgiver and supreme judge, You, who live and reign forever and ever. Amen.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair thanks Father Evanko, who is the guest today of Senator Baker.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

(The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by those assembled.)

GUESTS OF THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Jefferson, Senator Scarnati.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Mr. President, today I am pleased to introduce the alumni from the Pennsylvania Governor's School for Sciences, who are seated on the Senate floor here today. As most of you know, the Pennsylvania Governor's School of Sciences is a 5-week live-in summer program held at Carnegie Mellon University giving talented high school juniors the opportunity to study advanced science and conduct scientific research. This program is certainly one of a kind. This exciting educational opportunity helps propel many students into college pursuing degrees and careers in STEM fields. Admission into this program is merit-based and guarantees the selection of at least one qualified student from every intermediate unit to insure geographic diversity across Pennsylvania.

The alumni support for the Pennsylvania School for the Sciences is a true testament to the success of the program. The 2017 alumni members joining us today include, and I will read them because there are quite a few of them but they are from multiple Senate districts, so I will let you know who they are and what Senate district they are from. Karley LaBenne is from my Senatorial district, the 25th. We have Kade Heckel and Donavan Keen from Senator Yaw's district. We have Megan Bequette who is from Senator Alloway's district; Christopher Woessner, Senator Bartolotta's district; Aaron Zhou from Senator Killion's district; Benjamin Mizerak and Deepayan Patra who are from Senator Hutchinson's district; Christian Spitler and Tiffany Irvin from Senator Eichelberger's district; Michaela Mattivi from Senator White's district; Nina Cao from Senator Browne's district; Marlena Purcell and Connor McFadden from Senator Argall's district; Michael Allen from Senator Scavello's district; Angelica

Alday from Senator Baker's district; Lucy Kitch-Peck from Senator Boscola's district; and Bennet Andrews from Senator Corman's district. And how did I do with all of the names? Did I do all right? Thank you. I practiced.

So please join me in offering these outstanding young students our warm Senate welcome.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Scarnati, the Pennsylvania Governor's School for Sciences young people, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate. Give us a parade wave. You guys were all on camera. I was watching from here and you all looked great.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR SCOTT F. MARTIN
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Martin.

Senator MARTIN. Mr. President, it is my honor to introduce the men's bowling team from Penn Manor High School in Lancaster County. These incredibly talented young men, led by their captains, have won their third State championship in a row. The Comets had several close games including winning by a single point in an elimination round, but that seemed to only fuel their fire and ultimately lead them to another State championship title. These gifted student-athletes have been described by their head coach as having more drive than he has ever seen in a group of young men. That is why I want to personally take the time to recognize the members of the team which include: seniors Michael Morris and twin brothers Daniel Mease and Nicholas Mease; juniors James Mahler, Riley Neuman, and Mark Smith, Jr.; sophomores Gavin Davidson, Graylin Hyson, Jordan Kahler; and freshman Evan Wright. Coach Chris Vital and his assistants are to be commended for their efforts, and I know these young men rely on the support of their families and the young ladies joining us in the gallery from the women's bowling team at Penn Manor. The Comets now qualify to participate in the U.S. High School Bowling National Championship this summer.

I ask that the Members of the Senate join me in wishing these outstanding young men the best of luck and showing our support as they go on to represent our great Commonwealth.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Martin, the Penn Manor Comets bowling team champions, and the women's bowling team, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR MARIO M. SCAVELLO
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Monroe, Senator Scavello.

Senator SCAVELLO. Mr. President, I welcome Austin Heeter and Christopher Mignosi, who are serving as guest Pages here in the Capitol today. Austin is 15 years old and an honor student currently completing eighth grade at J.T. Lambert Intermediate School in the East Stroudsburg School District. Austin has many interests including golf team, rifle club, and Boy Scouts of America. He is currently working on his Star Rank in Boy Scouts, and his visit and participation today, in addition to being a unique experience, will be used for his Citizenship of the Nation merit badge, which is an Eagle requirement merit badge. Austin's future career interests include computer technology, network security, and game design.

Christopher is 14 years old and an honor student currently completing seventh grade at Stroudsburg Middle School. Christopher has been part of the Stroudsburg orchestra for 4 years playing the double bass. Chris's other interests include football, running cross country, and Boy Scouts of America. He is currently working on his First Class Rank in Boy Scouts and, like Austin, his visit today is also a prerequisite for his Citizenship of the Nation merit badge, which will get him one step closer to the Eagle requirement merit badge. His future career aspiration is to become an aeronautical engineer.

Please join me in giving Austin Heeter and his mother, Heather, and Christopher Mignosi and his mother, Julie, a warm Senate welcome.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Scavello, Austin and Christopher and their mothers, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate. It is great to have you with us.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR ELISABETH J. BAKER PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Luzerne, Senator Baker.

Senator BAKER. Mr. President, it is well for our deliberations and decisionmaking to draw guidance and inspiration from the words of faith delivered at the opening of each Senate Session day. We are also very blessed with the diversity of individuals willing to provide us with spiritual insight as we endeavor to bring justice and opportunity to the citizens we serve. So, today, it is my distinct honor and privilege to join Senator Yudichak in welcoming Father Joseph Evanko, our guest Chaplain, who comes from St. Jude's Parish in Mountain Top, Pennsylvania. Father Joe is a native of Hazleton and St. Jude's is a parish in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Scranton. They recently dedicated their newly constructed church last September, and they have more than 2,500 families with a congregation that is extremely active and close to one another.

Interestingly, there are three members of the parish who are also here today and it was a privilege that we had Dan Frascella joining Father Joe as he joined him to come on the trip to Harrisburg. Dan served as a Wright Township Supervisor for 24 years, and both Dan and his late wife, Fanny, were very involved in the construction of the new parish.

In addition, Cathy Malkemes is here advocating on behalf of ALS and her late husband, and she is joined by Erica Smith who is the chapter nurse. So they are here today, a member of the parish doing justice in advocacy. And we also heard from Senator Scarnati that Angelica Alday is here as one of our students going to the Governor's School for Sciences. So, St. Jude's Parish in Mountain Top is well represented today on the Senate floor, and I ask that you give a warm welcome to our guests who hail from northeastern Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Baker, Father Evanko, Dan Frascella, Cathy Malkemes, and Erica Smith, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate. Father, thank you for your prayer today.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR MICHELE BROOKS PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Mercer, Senator Brooks.

Senator BROOKS. Mr. President, I am very happy to be joined today and tomorrow by four terrific students from the 50th Senatorial District who are serving as guest Pages in both the House and the Senate. These four students are truly renaissance teams. They are star athletes, honor students, advocates, science fair competitors, and community volunteers. All four students are from St. Michael's School, which is in Greenville, Mercer County. Sarah Gonzalez, Halle Murcko, Jude Yuriscic, and Julianne Johnson have all made the 5-hour trip to be with us here today, as well as tomorrow. They are accompanied by Mike Yuriscic, who is Jude's father. Mr. Yuriscic is also the father of John Michael Yuriscic, who was a guest Page a few years ago.

Jennifer Petrucci is also a chaperone. She is the homeroom, science, and literature teacher for the eighth-graders of St. Michael's. Jennifer is currently working on her master's degree as a reading specialist and hopes to someday earn her principal certification.

Jude Yuriscic is the class president and was a State participant in National History Day and the middle school musical. He is a high honor student and a St. Paul's Senior Care volunteer.

Julianne Johnson is the eighth grade co-vice president. She is a basketball player, a cheerleader, a 2-year participant in the Pennsylvania Junior Academy of Science, and a 3-year participant in National History Day. She is also an altar server and a high honor student.

Halle Murcko is the eighth-grade class vice president who plays on the girls' basketball team and earned her black belt in karate. Halle is also an honor student who has participated in National History Day and the Pennsylvania Junior Academy of Science.

Sarah Gonzalez has traveled to the Capitol before, bringing a very important message from home. Last year, the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence honored her sister, Olivia, who was killed by her roommate in a violent attack. Sarah and her family are working to reform our domestic violence laws to toughen the penalties for homicide when the attacker is under the influence of drugs. Despite living through an unthinkable tragedy, Sarah has found a way to excel while also creating a legacy of service that honors the memory of her sister. She participates in volleyball, softball, jiu-jitsu, soccer, cheerleading, the middle school musical, and the Pennsylvania Junior Academy of Science. She also finds time to volunteer at St. Paul's Retirement Home.

It is wonderful to have these impressive young students with me here today at the Capitol. Please join me in giving these four first-class 14-year-olds and their chaperones a very warm Senate welcome.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Brooks, our four young students and their chaperones, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate. We are counting on you to do big things.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR VINCENT J. HUGHES PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, and we are all very excited to hear from him, Senator Hughes.

Senator HUGHES. Mr. President, we talk about a lot of things on the floor of the Senate, Mr. President, we memorialize a lot of organizations for some very special accomplishments, but on this day, at this moment, please allow me to allow this body to recognize the number one, the top, numero uno, the winner of the PIAA Class AAAAAA State Champions, the Upper Dublin Girls' Basketball Team. Mr. President, I would like to congratulate, again, the Upper Dublin High School Girls' Basketball Team on winning the 2017-18 PIAA Class AAAAAA Girls' Basketball Championship. On March 27, 2018, at the Giant Center in Hershey, the team defeated Central Bucks High School South by a score of 41-39 to bring home the PIAA Class AAAAAA Girls' Basketball Championship. The Cardinals finished the regular season with a 22-5 record.

Please join me in congratulating the Upper Dublin Cardinals on their 2017-18 PIAA State Class AAAAAA Girls' Basketball Championship.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Hughes, the Upper Dublin High School Girls' Championship Basketball Team and coaches, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR LAWRENCE FARNESE PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farnese.

Senator FARNESE. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce a group of students from the great city of Philadelphia, the Constitution High School Boys' Basketball Team led by coach Robert Moore, finished the season with a 21-11 record. On March 27, the team won the PIAA AA State Championship, their fourth title in the past 9 years. Since the school was established in 2006, the teachers, coaches, and students continue to build a winning tradition, and I hope the success continues in the years to come.

I ask that we please give the State Champion Constitution High Generals our usual warm Senate welcome and congratulate them on their great season. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Farnese, the Constitution High School Boys' Basketball Championship Team and coaches please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate. Well done.

(Applause.)

GUEST OF SENATOR MICHAEL R. REGAN PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from York, Senator Regan.

Senator REGAN. Mr. President, I am very fortunate today to have a very lovely shadow. Emerson Hoover, my friend and constituent, is here from Mechanicsburg Middle School. She is a seventh-grader, an outstanding volleyball player, and a very accomplished ballet dancer. I am not sure what she wants to do when she grows up, but I can tell you I hope it will not be Senator from the 31st Senatorial District because I would be in big trouble. She is also the big sister to three siblings and she is an exceptional young lady. We are happy to have her with us today.

I ask my colleagues to give a warm Senate welcome to my guest. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guest of Senator Regan, Emerson Hoover, an outstanding young woman, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR SHARIF T. STREET AND SENATOR ANTHONY H. WILLIAMS PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognize the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Street.

Senator STREET. Mr. President, I rise to welcome to the Capitol the ladies of one of the finest institutions in the history of the United States of America. The ladies of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated, are here with us today. Their organization is over 200,000 strong. You will notice them in their crimson and cream today walking the Capitol, talking to us about important issues, but these women go throughout the country supporting causes of charity, supporting young ladies in mentorship, and reaching out to people to make communities better. So, I rise to welcome them to the Capitol and thank them for all that they do for so many folks. I believe I have a colleague who is joining me in welcoming them as well.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Williams.

Senator WILLIAMS. Mr. President, I thank my colleague for allowing me to say a few words. It would not be appropriate as I have a member of my staff, Desaree Jones, who is also a part of that august group here today. I apologize, I was not able to make the luncheon but, hopefully, you enjoyed the breakfast. Most importantly, it does mean something to all of us to recognize an extraordinary group of people who for generations have been a part of this, and I do not need to repeat what my dear friend, Senator Street, mentioned to all of us, but we do gratefully appreciate their presence in the Capitol today and tip our hats for them being so.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Street and Senator Williams, the lovely and important ladies of Delta Sigma Theta, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate. Thank you for all that you do.

(Applause.)

GUESTS OF SENATOR ROBERT B. MENSCH
AND SENATOR STEWART J. GREENLEAF
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Mensch.

Senator MENSCH. Mr. President, sitting here today and listening to all these introductions, I have been struck by the various introductions, from academic champions, to bowling champions, to basketball champions, and I am about to introduce some swimming champions. But the point I want to make, Mr. President, is these are wonderful young people. In the media and in social media, we always hear about the ills and we hear about the problems with our young people, but is it not remarkable that we have so many wonderful people here today to be able to introduce? For me personally, it makes me feel a whole lot better about the future of my country, America. So, to all of these young people, thank you for your excellence. We appreciate it.

Let me introduce the swimming team. Senator Greenleaf and I welcome the North Penn girls' swimming and diving team and their coaches to the State Capitol today as they celebrate their 2018 State championship title. The North Penn Knights, I learned today that these young ladies are also known as the Queens of Aquatics, won first place with a score of 258 points in the District 1 Class AAA Championships March 3 and 4 at the Kirk Pool at LaSalle University in Philadelphia. This is their second State title in the last 3 years. The team captured first place in the 200-yard medley relay, 1-meter diving event, and the 400-yard freestyle relay. I am pleased to congratulate the North Penn girls' swimming and diving team on their 2018 State championship title. The team members are exceptional athletes who deserve this recognition along with their coaches. I commend them on all of their hard work and dedication to achieving this goal.

Please join me, Mr. President, in welcoming and congratulating the North Penn girls' swimming and diving team along with their coaches.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guests of Senator Mensch, the Queens of Aquatics, the North Penn girls' swimming and diving team champions, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

GUEST OF SENATOR ANDREW E. DINNIMAN
PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Senator Dinniman.

Senator DINNIMAN. Mr. President, I have today in the gallery an intern. One of our school districts, the Conestoga High School Tredyffrin/Easttown District, one of the best in the State, allows all of its seniors to spend a period of time working in the community, and one of the places they usually come to work is in my office as well. This student, Prathyanka Nagasundaram, is my intern and her parents are from India. She has done a superb job and her teacher selected her as one of the best students in the high school. I ask the Senate to give my intern, who is working with us from Conestoga High School, a warm welcome.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Would the guest of Senator Dinniman, Prathyanka Nagasundaram, the great intern from Conestoga High School, please rise so that we may welcome you to the Pennsylvania Senate.

(Applause.)

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Fayette, Senator Stefano.

Senator STEFANO. Mr. President, today I rise to ask for support for Senate Bill No. 897. Senate Bill No. 897 is a very simple bill with a very simple idea. If you steal from a governmental agency, a nonprofit, or a business, you should be made to repay what you stole from them. This has been a longstanding practice in restitution sentencing until the Supreme Court ruled that these entities could not be considered for restitution. I do not think a week goes by that we do not read of an employee of a local government or volunteer or employee with a nonprofit involved in stealing money from that organization. While these types of individuals are clearly in the minority when it comes to people who work for and on behalf of these entities, their impact is felt by all associated with these groups. It is felt by people whom they serve in reduced services or increased prices. It is felt by taxpayers who face tax increases and ratepayers who face rate increases.

Before I came to the Senate, I was the chairman of a sewage authority whose employees stole from that authority. I saw firsthand the hardship that our authority went through to recover these funds. I cannot imagine what this ruling would have done had it been in effect at that time and how we would have dealt with that loss. I have met with local government officials who have had to deal with this very issue by literally deciding whether they were able to pave roads or leave them unpaved because they had to deal with being victims of theft. Senate Bill No. 897 would make them eligible to seek restitution and relieve taxpayers, ratepayers, and people served by the entity bearing the burden of someone else's crime.

I thank my good friend and colleague, Senator Boscola, for cosponsoring this bill with me. I know it has been a major issue in her district as well, and I am proud of our bipartisan work on this important issue. Again, I ask my colleagues for their support for this commonsense legislation, Senate Bill No. 897.

Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Northampton, Senator Boscola.

Senator BOSCOLA. Mr. President, I rise in support of Senate Bill No. 897. I am also proud to have worked with Senator Stefano on this bill. We cosponsored it together, a Democrat and a Republican working together to get something done. A recent court ruling involving the Crime Victims' Act permitted a thief who stole money from several local governments to avoid paying restitution. Stole money and a court said it is not a victim, the township, the borough, or a church because it is not a flesh-and-blood live person. In Bethlehem Township, an individual entered into a contract concerning street lights for over $800,000, and not only did this person not perform the contract, he and his partner stole the money and spent it on themselves personally. And then here we go, a court rules, no, the township cannot collect restitution because the township is not a victim because it is not a real live person. Now, I seem to think that court ruling was ridiculous. I cannot do anything about that court ruling, but what we can do is something here today to rectify it. So now, despite the fact that we have a convicted individual sentenced, and ordered to pay restitution, the township might not get their money back because of a court decision. This is an injustice no matter how you slice it. And think about it this way, if he does not have to pay that money back, now the taxpayers in that township are going to pay twice because the contract was not performed for $800,000, he does not have to pay the money back and we have to go get another contract for $800,000.

So the taxpayers across this Commonwealth, it is not only Bethlehem Township, it is in boroughs across this Commonwealth, churches, Little Leagues, there are victims being stolen from who deserve restitution, and it is really a simple matter. Despite how the courts have interpreted the law and the definition, we need to make it clear that local governments and nonprofits are entitled to restitution. A person steals, gets convicted, might even spend some time in jail, but does not need to pay the money back that was stolen because the victim is not a flesh-and-blood person as defined by law. It is just completely absurd. And even in my township, as well, there was a church that was stolen from for $300,000 and it is a matter of time before the appellate court overturns that because, again, a church is not a victim because they are not a person. That case might be overturned too.

So the burden is on us, the legislature, to act. Government entities, nonprofits, churches, school districts, fire departments, small businesses, all of them have a reason to believe that they need to be made right if they are victims and were defrauded and if they were stolen from. So at the end of the day, it does not matter how we got here, we just need to act to make sure that victims are able to recover restitution from individuals who stole from them. Until we fix this, there will be convicted people stealing from governments and nonprofits with no obligation to pay back what was stolen. This bill rectifies that, and I do commend Senator Stefano for working with me on this bill.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS
SENATE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Senators LANGERHOLC, SABATINA, GREENLEAF, MARTIN, BARTOLOTTA, RESCHENTHALER, DINNIMAN, BREWSTER, BROWNE, FOLMER, FARNESE, AUMEN, HUTCHINSON, HUGHES, SCHWANK, KILLION, RAFFERTY, VULAKOVICH, MENSCH, BLAKE and COSTA, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 365, entitled:

A Resolution designating the month of May 2018 as "Neurofibromatosis Awareness Month" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Langerholc.

Senator LANGERHOLC. Mr. President, today we are recognizing May 2018 as "Neurofibromatosis Awareness Month." Neurofibromatosis, or NF as it is more commonly called, is a genetically determined neurological disorder affecting an estimated 100,000 people nationwide. There are three types of NF: NF1, NF2, and Schwannomatosis. NF1, formerly known as von Recklinghausen disease, or peripheral NF, is the most common of the three and is also one of the most common inherited neurological disorders affecting about one in 3,000 people throughout the world. This disorder is characterized by multiple light brown skin spots and small benign growths on or under the skin and/or freckling in the armpits or groin. About 50 percent of those with NF1 also have learning challenges. Softening and curving of bones and scoliosis may occur in some patients. Occasionally, tumors may develop in the brain, cranial nerves, or on the spinal cord. While NF tumors are generally not cancerous, they may cause health problems by pressing on nearby body tissue. Sometimes a benign tumor may become malignant, but most people with NF1 will never develop a malignant tumor. NF1 is usually diagnosed in childhood.

I would like to tell you a story about a little brave boy living with NF. His parents are close friends with one of my staff members. Tyler Plunkard is the son of Misty and John Plunkard. When Tyler was a few months old, his parents noticed bruises around his rib cage. At a routine checkup, they asked about it and the doctor suggested they go to the local children's hospital and that Tyler may have NF. They met a neurologist who scheduled Tyler for an MRI. The scan showed that he had an optic glioma, and with this finding, a criteria was met and Tyler was diagnosed with NF the day before his first birthday. They referred him to oncology and in November of 2012, Tyler began monthly IV treatments at 18 months old. After just 9 months of treatment, the tumor had stabilized. In March of 2014, Tyler had his tonsils and adenoids removed because of complications he was experiencing in his throat. After a 10-month break from chemotherapy, they discovered that the optic glioma tumor was again enhancing. Tyler started monthly chemo treatments in April of 2014 but experienced complications, again, of choking episodes. It was then discovered that he had a brainstem tumor which was contributing to the choking. He was put on an every-other-week chemo treatment plan and also had to have a PowerPort put in to help make the chemo sessions more bearable.

But in March of 2015, Tyler was chemo-free and currently his tumors are stable. He receives occupational, speech, and physical therapy on a weekly basis. He has sleep apnea and may need to have additional palate surgery in the near future. He was actually in the Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh yesterday for his bi-yearly scanning. He is now 7 years old, and this young man loves life. He is always smiling and with just a glimpse or conversation with him, he will make you smile, too. He loves soccer, bike riding, his iPad, working in the garage with his dad, and is overjoyed when he sees a fire truck, tractor-trailer, or any other type of big equipment. With advances in molecular biological neuroimaging, specialized treatment centers and NF specific research teams, survival rates are improving, along with the quality of life of NF patients.

It is my hope that this resolution, along with further awareness and recognition of this condition, will continue to lead to medical advances to help those who currently live with and may yet be born or diagnosed with NF. Again, Mr. President, I wish to thank you and my colleagues for helping me recognize May 2018 as Neurofibromatosis Awareness Month in this Commonwealth. Thank you.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators BAKER, SCHWANK, FONTANA, BREWSTER, SABATINA, BROWNE, DINNIMAN, GREENLEAF, ARGALL, REGAN, TARTAGLIONE, FOLMER, FARNESE, GORDNER, BARTOLOTTA, BLAKE, HUGHES, COSTA, KILLION, VULAKOVICH, RAFFERTY, AUMENT and YUDICHAK, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 366, entitled:

A Resolution recognizing and celebrating the 125th anniversary of the establishment of the State forest system and recognizing and celebrating the 125th anniversary of the establishment of the first State park in Pennsylvania.

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Luzerne, Senator Baker.

Senator BAKER. Mr. President, earlier today I joined my friend and colleague, Senator Schwank, as we celebrated the 125th anniversary of our State parks and forests system. We were there working with the Pennsylvania Parks and Forests Foundation and Marci Mowery to recognize this magnificent crown jewel that we have. The 20th Senatorial District boasts seven State parks and two State forest areas, the Delaware and Pinchot State forests. And so, as I offered remarks earlier today I will offer them for the record and say we want to acknowledge and thank the foundation for their good work, the volunteers who put forward and help to preserve and protect this wonderful, abundant natural resource. So, Mr. President I ask for a unanimous vote in support of our State park and forestry network. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Baker, on a very important and unique contribution that we have through our State forest system.

Without objection, the remarks will be spread across the record.

(The following prepared remarks were made part of the record at the request of the gentlewoman from Luzerne, Senator BAKER:)

Mr. President, we frequently celebrate milestones in our Commonwealth's political and economic heritage. It is a different matter when we celebrate our natural heritage, for this creation was an inheritance, not something that men and woman imagined and engineered from a cold standing start. Yet, it was a groundbreaking political and economic move when the State forests and State parks were established.

When we describe our State parks as crown jewels, when we talk about the magnificent habitat of our forestlands, we are paying tribute to individuals who possessed remarkable foresight. Because of their determination and purpose, we can enjoy the beauty, quality, and value of these protected and preserved lands. We could spend a long time cataloging and describing the spectacular features found within the State park system or speak of our personal favorites.

This resolution and anniversary recognition help restore the names of these preservation pioneers in terms of public awareness. Most notably from the 20th Senatorial District is Governor Gifford Pinchot who partnered with Teddy Roosevelt to set aside incredible parcels of iconic wilderness. Known as the "father of conservation," he served as the first chief of the U.S. Forests Service and introduced the concept of preserving the past in order to protect the future.

Many of us, as part of our faith, are reminded of the duty toward stewardship. We should note the individuals and groups behind this anniversary celebration, for they are bringing passion and devotion to the pursuit of responsible stewardship. Because of the many organizations committed to the cause, Pennsylvanians, even those who may never visit, have ownership of marvelous natural assets.

It is clear that our challenges in providing the clean air and the clean water underpinning the environmental rights amendment in the State Constitution would be all the more difficult without the woodlands. Whether we simply enjoy the scenic vistas or partake of the more vigorous activities associated with the outdoors, we have the privilege of doing so because exceptional men and woman saw the right thing to do and found effective ways to carry it out. We are grateful for what they did for us, and in turn, our actions should be such that we earn the equal gratitude of future generations.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators BOSCOLA, FARNESE, BREWSTER, DINNIMAN, SCHWANK, GREENLEAF, VULAKOVICH, SABATINA, RAFFERTY, COSTA, AUMENT, VOGEL and HUGHES, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 367, entitled:

A Resolution commending the Pennsylvania Academy of Audiology for its efforts to educate Pennsylvanians about the importance of having regular hearing screenings, and recognizing the month of May 2018 as "Better Hearing Month" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Northampton, Senator Boscola.

Senator BOSCOLA. Mr. President, this resolution recognizes May 2018 as "Better Hearing Month" in our Commonwealth. We must encourage all Pennsylvanians to remain in tune and aware about their hearing capabilities and how it may change throughout adulthood. Hearing loss is the third most common health problem in the nation, with more than 36 million people across this country impacted by such challenges. While hearing problems are commonly associated with the normal process of aging, more than half of those with hearing loss are 65 years old and younger. This issue can be unpredictable and more sudden than we assume. Those suffering from hearing loss may experience other issues such as depression, anxiety, and even the early onset of dementia. It often affects participation in social activities as well as work. Therefore, Mr. President, I encourage anyone who may be experiencing early signs or trouble with their hearing to seek out qualified healthcare professionals, such as an audiologist, who can best screen individuals for hearing loss. Audiologists can help plan the best course of treatment, which may include hearing aids or listening devices, as well as rehabilitation.

I thank my Senate colleagues for joining me today in educating the public about the importance of removing hearing challenge stigmas and focusing on good health practices here in Pennsylvania.

Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Senators SCAVELLO, BAKER, DINNIMAN, BROWNE, FONTANA, BREWSTER, GREENLEAF, FARNESE, SABATINA, KILLION, VULAKOVICH, SCHWANK, MENSCH, RAFFERTY, COSTA, YUDICHAK and HUGHES, by unanimous consent, offered Senate Resolution No. 368, entitled:

A Resolution recognizing the week of May 20 through 26, 2018, as "Public Works Week" in Pennsylvania.

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Monroe, Senator Scavello.

Senator SCAVELLO. Mr. President, public works professionals work behind the scenes to make our communities healthier, safer, and improve the overall quality of life of our citizens in Pennsylvania and across the nation. It is important to recognize those individuals whom we may not always see, but we know that they are hard at work because public works are evident in everything we do and everywhere we go. These public works professionals are comprised of individuals from State or local agencies, to engineers, consultants, contractors, inspectors, and vendors who work for these agencies. They are the men and women who make our quality of life better and improve the communities in which we live every day by providing core services such as planning, building, managing, and operating public works systems. Everywhere you look, from our streets to our sewer systems, our water systems, building maintenance, wastewater treatment, solid waste collection, airport operations, and many other duties within our local communities has a public works professional working behind the scenes.

This resolution is being offered in honor of those individuals who work in the public works field, and I ask all of you to join with me in recognition of the contributions and accomplishments made by public works professionals across the Commonwealth and across the nation and to encourage all citizens of the Commonwealth to give them the same recognition.

Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.
